CANADA

Canada is the second-largest country after Russia with its economy being ranked 10th in the world. There is now a greater demand for immigrants in Canada with more than 500,000 jobs going unfilled across Canada starting from the first three months of 2019

AUSTRALIA

Australia's economy is rapidly growing thereby giving huge job opportunities to skilled migrants. People migrating to Australia often dream of a high standard of living considering the work-life balance maintained in the country.

NEW ZEALAND

New Zealand is rated second in the world for work-life balance and there is also a high demand for people with skills in engineering, trades, finance and of course health and education.
